

All Souls' Church Lenten Wednesday Night Dinner Series 2010

Faith seeking understanding
“Fides quaerens intellectum”

~ St. Anselm, Archbishop of Canterbury d. 1109

February 24th –

Mr. William Murchison

Nationally-syndicated columnist William Murchison has been a professional journalist since 1964. William Murchison has been with The Dallas Morning News since 1973, where he now serves as senior columnist. His newspaper column has been nationally syndicated since 1981. He is also a regular contributor to National Review, The Wall Street Journal, Policy Review, The American Spectator, and First Things. Mr. Murchison has written numerous books. His most recent book is “Mortal Follies” Episcopalians & The Crisis of Mainline Christianity

March 3rd

The Right Reverend Edward Salmon

Bishop Ed Salmon is the former 13th Bishop of the Diocese of South Carolina. He is presently serving as interim rector of All Saints' Church in Chevy Chase, Maryland. He will also be conducting our Lenten Quiet Day March 3rd. He and his wife, Louise, were close friends to the late Fr. William Ralston. He is a gifted pastor and speaker.

March 10th –

Mr. Terry Prather

Youth Pastor/Director extraordinaire for the Parish of All Souls' Church, Terry has been in youth ministry for the past twenty-five years in various capacities and full time since 1994. He has been with All Souls' Church since August of 2001. He will complete the Diocesan Aspirancy program in April and then may pursue ordination as a Deacon for the Diocese of Oklahoma.

March 17th –

Mr. Nathan Carr

Mr. Carr is a teacher and the Director of Secondary School Planning at Providence Hall Classical Christian School in Oklahoma City. Nathan, with his wife Sarah, became a confirmed member of All Souls' Church last June. He is presently completing his Master's degree in Religious Studies and is in the aspirancy program towards ordination in the Diocese of Oklahoma.

March 24th

– Mr. Stewart Clem

Mr. Clem is also a teacher at Providence Hall. He and his wife Molly became members of All Souls' in the spring of 2009. Stewart should complete the Diocesan Aspirancy program this spring and then hopes to attend seminary through the Anglican Studies Program at Duke University in Raleigh, North Carolina. He also is seeking ordination within the Diocese of Oklahoma.

